

Sunil Anand

Sunil Anand has been closely associated with a dynamic group of homeopaths from Mumbai known as the 'Mumbai group'. This group includes such well-known homeopaths as Dr. Rajan Sankaran and Dr. Jayesh Shah. Along with his colleagues he conducts several training programmes in refining case-taking techniques in homeopathy. They are part of a research group that teaches and updates their work and also offers quality education in homeopathy to students and doctors from all over the world. This organization is called Homeopathic Research and Charities.

His contribution in the field of teaching homeopathy at an individual level at two prime medical colleges in Mumbai and Pune has helped shape his role as an endearing teacher. He joined as a junior lecturer and over a period of fifteen years of teaching and conducting lectures for under-graduates as well as postgraduates, has risen to the designation of an Associate Professor. He has conducted specialized out-patient departments in pediatrics at both institutes and has been a very popular teacher. His travel all over the world to conduct workshops, as well as see patients, gives him a definite edge in handling all kinds of cases with the required skill in prescribing and managing challenging cases.

His use of casual tools such as toys in the clinic as well as the enquiry into doodles and drawings made by his children patients provide wonderful insights for his creative and gentle handling of even cases with deep pathology. A visit to any of his clinics will further endorse the same with the display of such works of art by his dear patients.

He is artful in encouraging the family to pursue good quality homeopathic care while making them aware of the finer nuances of homeopathic management. He has a close working relationship with conventional doctors of all areas of specialty. Many of them consult him for treatment for themselves and their families as well as refer patients to him.

Sunil will be speaking on Accurate Prescribing through Refinement in Casetaking Technique via the Sensation Method; acute and chronic cases and their management at the West Coast Homeopathic Society's post-conference seminar on Sunday, May 1, 2010 in Vancouver.
